

ABSTRACT:

A device for multiple row addressing is driven with pulse patterns based on sets of 8 (or more) orthogonal functions which have a less varying frequency content than pulse patterns based on a set of 8 Walsh functions.

5 Fig. 6

091120 "SECRET" 041200